

EMPLOYER ENGAGEMENT MANAGER

Finchale are seeking to appoint an experienced Employer Engagement Manager for an exciting new initiative. The ideal candidate will be a self-starter with strong communication skills, able to absorb key information quickly and work well with a small team in a dynamic working environment.

- Are you a Business Development Professional with experience in building relationships, producing client-focused solutions and positively influencing customers?
- An experienced B2B sales professional looking for a new challenge?
- Want to play a vital role in enabling people to make positive and lasting life changes?

With a generous flexible working policy, company pension and access to ongoing professional development you'll become part of an award winning, independent charity with a long and successful history of supporting local people, businesses and the armed forces community.

To be successful, you'll need:

- Strong evidence and proven track record of successful b2b sales
- Excellent communication both verbal & written in order to identify and create opportunities for apprenticeship and Finchale commercial training offer.
- Experience in the training and education sector
- Willing to act as a champion for our brand and quality policies

Based in Durham City with significant travel around the region the post holder will be responsible for engaging with businesses across County Durham and the wider North East region.

This is a newly reformed role and the successful candidate will have an exciting opportunity to make the role entirely their own.
