

EDUCATION DEVELOPMENT MANAGER

Finchale are seeking to appoint a pro-active, enthusiastic and self-motivated individual to take on the management and growth of the commercial development of the education and training offer.

This is an exciting opportunity for a committed professional to develop the training provision both internally and externally across existing and new markets and business sectors.

- Are you a strategic thinker passionate about learning and development?
- Do you have a commercial development background?
- Want to play a vital role in enabling people to make positive and lasting life changes?

With a generous flexible working policy, company pension and access to ongoing professional development you'll become part of an award winning, independent charity with a long and successful history of supporting local people, businesses and the armed forces community.

To be successful, you'll need:

- A proven track record of managing multi-stream education and training programmes
- Experienced in managing a diverse range of funding streams and an ability to capitalise on opportunities within existing provision
- Willing to act as a champion for our brand and quality policies

Based in Durham City the post holder will be responsible for engaging with businesses across County Durham and the wider North East region.

This is a newly reformed role and the successful candidate will have an exciting opportunity to make the role entirely their own.
